Well, to put it straight out, we do not think of pVP3 as a replacement for a dedicated video switcher for most productions, but if you have fixed cameras or need to framing multiple camera images in different dimensions I would like to appreciate this new functionality.. This means that you can connect as many monitors as your computer can handle, including graphics directly (DVI, HDMI, VGA), broadcast (SDI), network-based (NDI, suction) outputs, or a combination therein.
